For A Woman Called Lydia

Akua Nkuma is 50

Beauty is good
But with you it is pure and True

And to Whom honor is due
We count you too

Women have come and gone
But to life's true path you have blown the horn

A woman without scorn
Great victories you have won

Blessed is the day you were born
So angels sing the harmony with lasses you have borne

A 1000 praises to your honor
We thank God for your mother

And to him who fathered you
To him we say thank you

50th Anniversary

Long life To you

Akua Nkuma is 50

A man you courted
A husband you wedded

A family you tethered
For on your laps they were nurtured
A shepherd to your kindred

Oh thou woman of virtue
To Aaron and daughters thou art a sanctuary and refuge

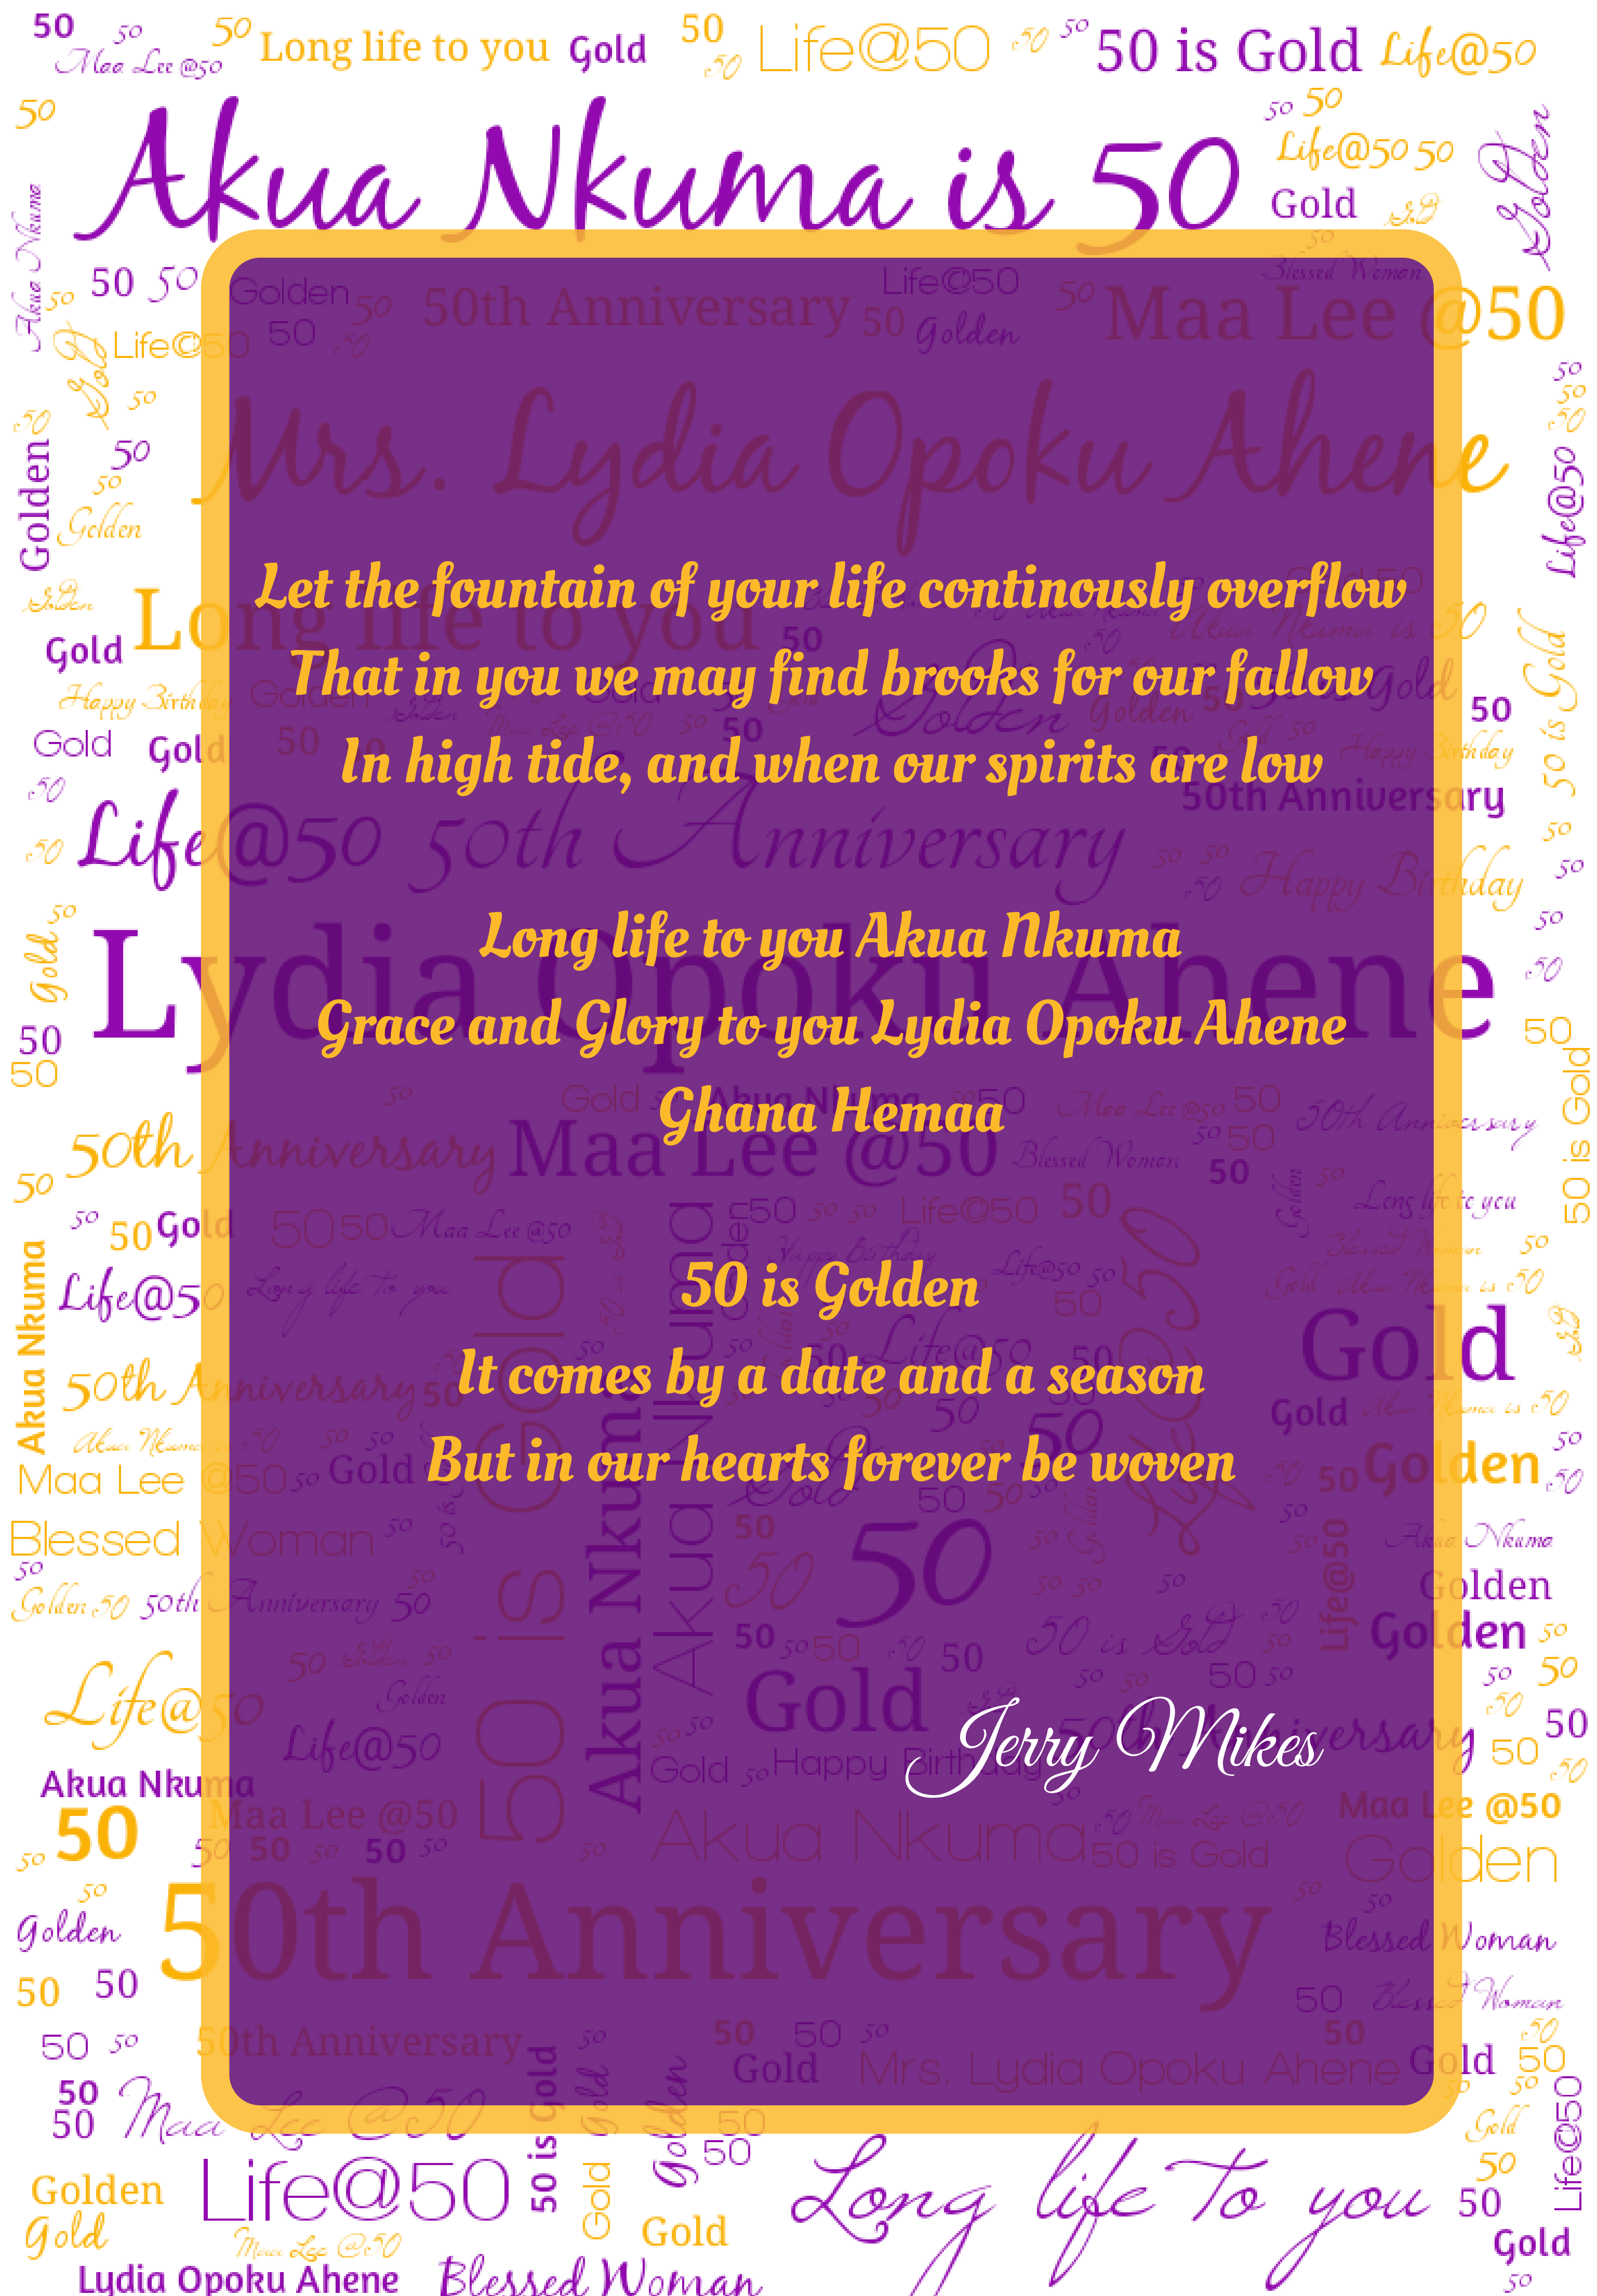

Blessed be the life you live
For blessed is the power you give

For by you souls and lives have feathered
Have furthered wings and flown through weathers
To dreams and destinies divinely orchestrated

Blessed are you among women
For to a 1000 chicks, you are the golden hen

50th Anniversary

Long life to you

Let the fountain of your life continuously overflow
That in you we may find brooks for our fallow
In high tide, and when our spirits are low

Long life to you Akua Nkuma
Grace and Glory to you Lydia Opoku Ahene
Ghana Hema

50 is Golden
It comes by a date and a season
But in our hearts forever be woven
